- Antifreeze and an expansion preventative added to skimmers

POST CLOSING TIPS & TRICKS:

After your pool is closed, taking care of your swimming pool in the winter months is just as important as caring for it in the summer months. Too many people tend to assume everything is fine because their pool has a cover on it. If you want to see clear water when you open the pool, you need to regularly maintain it over the winter. Below are some tips that can ensure you have crystal clear water in the spring!

- Watch the weather. Most importantly, keep the water a couple inches below the skimmer and/or tile line.
- Check water chemistry and balance regularly
- Keep your pool cover clean all winter long. Pump water to above ground pool covers and solid safety covers. Remove snow as quickly as possible, even while it is coming down. Snow is very heavy and wreaks havoc on all types of covers.
- Check your skimmers regularly to make sure the antifreeze is still in place and doing its job.
- Make sure your safety cover is securely anchored at every anchor point.
- In our climate zone, the following trade-phrase could not be truer, "Late to bed, early to rise, keeps your pool healthy and easy on the eyes." In other words, close late, open early!
